Helpful Websites for College Students What's Happening?

Legal

Magisterial District Courts Docket Sheets:

This one is not only informative, but can also be very entertaining. Did you know that every speeding ticket, underage, or any other crime that someone has been cited for is posted for public knowledge. Here is the website; the directions are self explanatory. <http://ujportal.pacourts.us/docketsheets/mdj.aspx>

Bloomsburg Town Police

This website gives a lot of information about laws but what may be of more use is the parking meter explanations. Many people get parking tickets in Bloomsburg and knowing how to avoid those areas may save you a few bucks: <http://www.bloompd.com/>

Academic

Rate Your Professor

Sometimes getting that tough professor is unavoidable, but in some cases, there is more than one option of who you decide to take the class with. Rate Your Professor is a website in which other students can put comments about different professors.

The comments are available for anyone to view and take into consideration when choosing exactly which classes to take.

Food

"Campus Food"

Campus food is a website that allows students to order food from local restaurants over the internet. A few restaurants around Bloomsburg include OIP, La Fontana, Jo-Jos, and Carini's Pizza and Subs Restaurant. Just choose where you would like your food to come from and follow the directions. They are simple. <http://www.campusfood.com/campus.asp?campusid=375>

Resturaunt Menus

Can't decide where to eat? Maybe the menu will help!

Applebees: <http://www.applebees.com/MenuLanding.aspx> Ruby Tuesdays: <http://www.rubytuesdays.com/menu.asp> Quaker
